2026 SURVEY OF AUSTIN AREA FUNERAL HOMES

Produced and published by the Funeral Consumers Alliance of Central Texas

Survey Procedures

Between January 2 and March 10, 2026, FCACTX volunteers obtained General Price Lists (GPLs) from funeral providers, licensed by the Texas Funeral Service Commission and physically located in Bastrop, Caldwell, Hays, Travis, and Williamson counties.

The prices in this survey were calculated by reviewing a General Price List (GPL) obtained from each funeral provider.

Because some funeral homes offer one or more packages and others do not offer packages, all costs shown in the survey were taken from products and services itemized on the price lists.

Despite the lack of uniformity in the formats and contents of the price lists, every effort was made to assure that this survey compares exactly the same services for all funeral homes surveyed.

Survey Chart

The survey chart (pages 3-9) provides the following information:

Column

1 Funeral home name (with link to website), telephone number, address
2 General Price List (GPL) effective date
3 Direct cremation charge including crematory fee
4 Immediate burial with minimum (least expensive) casket
5 Basic funeral service not including casket or urn (See page 2 for detailed description of what is included in this hypothetical service)
6 One-way mileage radius / Per mileage charge for additional miles
7 Casket price range

Columns for comparison purposes only:

8 Embalming option
9 Non-declinable basic/professional services fee

Definitions, Descriptions, and Notes

1 Funeral home name, telephone number, address

Funeral homes are listed alphabetically by name rather than by city or zip code. Most funeral providers will travel at least 25 miles (one way) without imposing an extra mileage fee. Extending your options beyond the nearest funeral homes may save you thousands of dollars.

2 General Price List (GPL) effective date

The costs shown are a "snapshot" in time. Funeral homes may change their price lists at any time. It is important to compare the effective date on any price list you obtain during the year with the GPL effective date in column 2 of this survey's price chart.

3 Direct cremation including crematory fee

Direct cremation includes only:

- transfer of the deceased from the place of death to a funeral home or mortuary facility
- appropriate care of the remains (usually refrigeration for at least a 48-hour waiting period between death and cremation)
- Some funeral homes include refrigeration in their direct cremation charge – at least for the first 48 hours – but you should ask if and when refrigeration charges are added to the Direct Cremation cost shown on the GPL.
    - securing all necessary permits and authorizations for the cremation
    - an alternative container to encase the body during cremation ("Alternative container" refers to a heavy-duty cardboard/ fiberboard or a combination cardboard/wood container.)
    - transportation of the body to the crematory
    - the cremation itself
    - returning the cremated remains in a secure container to the family directly or making them available for pickup at the funeral home
    - all other services of the funeral director and staff (a non-declinable Basic Services fee that is usually reduced for direct cremations).

Crematories are required to return the cremated remains in a container. Some funeral homes may attempt to charge for such a container; however, they are not allowed by law to require its purchase (Texas Health & Safety Code, Sec. 716.155).

When decedents weigh over set amounts – e.g., bodies weighing 250 pounds or more – there is often an additional charge for the cremation process and for a larger alternative container. There may also be an additional charge for transporting the body to the funeral home and/or crematory.

4 Immediate burial with minimum (least expensive) casket

Immediate burial includes only:

- Transfer of the deceased from the place of death to the funeral home or mortuary
- placement of the body in the funeral home's "minimum" (least expensive burial casket, usually cloth-covered wood, wood with a veneer , or 20-gauge metal)
- transportation of the body to a cemetery or other burial site
- all services of the funeral director and staff (a non-declinable fee that is usually reduced for immediate burials)

Immediate burial does not include a grave space, opening and closing the grave, a grave liner (if desired by the family or required by the cemetery), or a grave marker.

Immediate burial is usually done within 48 hours of death, sometimes sooner. This is important to note because some funeral homes will add a refrigeration charge when they take the deceased into their care, even if burial occurs within 24 hours of death.

5 Basic funeral service not including casket or urn

The funeral service in this survey is a hypothetical funeral service. It includes the following goods and services:

- the full, non-declinable fee for the basic services of the funeral director and staff
- transfer of the deceased from the place of death to a funeral home
- embalming
- dressing the body and placing it in a casket
- a visitation at the funeral home
- a funeral service at a location other than the funeral home
- use of a hearse to transport the casket

Costs not included in this hypothetical basic funeral:

- a grave space or plot
- opening and closing the grave
- a grave liner, if desired or required by the cemetery
- a grave marker
- an obituary
- flowers
- services of clergy, organist, vocalist, or other musician
- a police escort
- possible utility vehicle charge to pick up permits, etc.
- any other services or products not described above

If the decedent died in Travis County, The Travis County Medical Examiner charges a $25 Cremation Permit Fee, which, like death certificates, is a third-party charge, usually collected by the funeral home.

The hypothetical funeral does not include the cost of a casket or urn because selections vary widely and there is no way to know what families will select and from whom they will purchase it.

6 One-way mileage radius / per mile charge beyond radius

Most funeral providers will travel at least 25 one-way miles before imposing an extra mileage fee. This information can help you expand your options beyond the nearest funeral homes and, in some instances, significantly reduce final expenses, even if you do end up paying for additional miles.

7 Casket price range

The Federal Trade Commission's Funeral Rule requires that GPLs include either individual casket prices or the range of casket prices that appear on the funeral provider's Casket Price List (CPL).

8 Embalming option (Do not add this cost to any other costs.)

Embalming is not required by law. You should know that embalming has no public health benefits that have been recognized by any public health authority. At best, it merely slows the natural decomposition process.

Refrigeration, which is usually a more affordable, non-invasive alternative to embalming, is used for direct cremations and immediate burials.

Basic services fee (Do not add this cost to any other costs.)

The basic services fee refers to the amount a funeral home chooses to charge for the basic services provided by the funeral director and staff, plus overhead costs.

The basic services fees for direct cremation and immediate burial are usually calculated by the funeral home at a reduced amount.

In the survey chart, basic services fees are included in all prices shown. The full fees are listed in the chart solely to make you aware of the wide variances.

2026 SURVEY OF AUSTIN AREA FUNERAL HOMES

Produced and published by the Funeral Consumers Alliance of Central Texas

- To understand fully the terms and the prices in the survey chart, refer to pages 1 and 2.
- The price lists used to produce this survey were collected between January 2 and March 10, 2026.
  The effective dates of the price lists used for this survey chart are indicated in column 2.
  Because we do not update the survey price chart throughout the year, when contacting a funeral home for current pricing information, be sure to ask for the effective date of the funeral home's General Price List from which prices are being quoted.
- See Cost-Saving Suggestions for Consumers on pages 10–11 for information on ways to make final arrangements more affordable.

Cost-Saving Suggestions for Consumers

Comparing prices and knowing your rights. The Federal Trade Commission requires funeral providers to give price information over the telephone and to give a copy of their General Price List (GPL) to anyone requesting it in person. Typically, the Casket Price List (CPL) and the Outer Burial Container (OBC) Price List are attached to the GPL. If not, ask for them. The CPL must be shown to you before discussing casket prices.

When offered a package, it is important to examine it closely because not all packages provide discounts. Consider, too, that packages often include goods and/or services you don't want, but you will have to pay for them if you choose the package.

Most funeral homes will modify their prices to get your business if they know you are willing to go elsewhere for goods and services. Also, they may not charge you for everything they are allowed by law to charge for.

Reducing final expenses. Choose direct cremation, immediate burial, or a graveside service, followed by an optional memorial service at nearly any location where people gather.

Another way to reduce expenses is to compare prices at funeral homes located up to 25 miles from the place where a death has occurred. GPLs indicate how far a funeral provider will travel before charging a mileage fee. Especially with direct cremation, the location of the funeral home is not a significant factor if you plan to have a memorial service later at another location.

Cost considerations when selecting burial

- If you select immediate burial, ask if there will be a charge for refrigeration.
- In determining the total cost for a burial, families need to include the cost of the burial space/plot, the charge to open and close the grave, a grave liner (not required by law but may be required by a cemetery to simplify grounds maintenance), and a grave marker. Prices vary greatly on these items, depending on the location of the burial plot and the materials used for the grave liner and the marker.
- At smaller, rural, or natural-burial cemeteries, families that wish to do so may ask if they can open and close the grave themselves.

Home funerals. Families who would like to handle some or all of the arrangements themselves can realize even greater savings with a home or family-led funeral, which, in Texas, does not require the full services of a funeral director. However, because the general public does not have access to the electronic registry Texas uses to document births and deaths, you will need a funeral director or mortuary service to help you with required paperwork and death certificates. Some funeral providers in the Austin area will provide this assistance for a fee.

For more information about home funerals, go to the website of the Home Funeral Alliance at https://www.homefuneralalliance.org/.

Slowing decomposition. After 24 hours from the time of death, the law requires that a body must (1) be kept between 34 and 40 degrees (using dry ice or refrigeration); or (2) be kept in an odor-proof and leak-proof container; or (3) be embalmed.

Embalming is not required by law. Embalming has no public health benefits that have been recognized by any public health authority. At best, it only slows the natural decomposition process.

Even though embalming is not required by law, most funeral directors will not allow a public viewing of a body that has not been embalmed.

Refrigeration, a more affordable, non-invasive alternative to embalming, is used mostly for direct cremations and immediate burials. Refrigeration is used to reduce or control decomposition while awaiting final disposition. Some funeral homes include refrigeration in their Direct Cremation charge – at least for the first 48 hours – but you should ask if and when refrigeration charges are added to the costs shown on the GPL for direct cremation, and also for immediate burial.

Caskets and urns. Comparing funeral home prices for caskets and urns to prices for similar items available from other sources (such as online casket and urn companies as well as www.costco.com, www.samsclub.com, www.walmart.com and www.amazon.com), can save you money and/or give you the figures you need to negotiate a lower price at the funeral home.

Keep in mind that funeral providers cannot charge you for having a casket delivered to their location.

Families considering a 20-ga. or an 18-ga. casket should be aware that metal caskets with rubber gaskets (sealers) will cost more and affect only how the body inside decomposes.

"Cremation caskets" are often among the lowest-cost caskets offered at many funeral homes and are suitable for burial as well as cremation.

Other casket options include wood caskets available from a variety of sources, including local carpenters and woodworkers.

Families who wish to make the casket themselves can find diagrams in books and on the internet.

"Alternative containers" – typically used for cremation – are also acceptable for burial.

If desired, you can invite family and friends to write or draw something on the outside of a cremation container or an unfinished wood casket, as is sometimes done at home funerals.

Another way to enhance the appearance of a simple casket is to cover it with a flag, the deceased's favorite quilt, a religious pall, or other cloth.

In certain circumstances, such as natural burial, a shroud made of entirely biodegradable materials is a choice to consider.

Unreasonable markups. Refrigeration charges are an excellent example of huge markups. According to industry sources, providing refrigeration costs a little more than $1.00 a day when all acquisition and operation costs are considered. Yet many funeral homes listed in the survey price chart charge more than $50 per day for refrigeration.

Many people who study the economics of the deathcare industry believe that high charges for refrigeration are used to assure that a family will choose embalming, which, in turn, usually results in additional spending for public viewing, a more expensive casket because it will be seen at close range by the public, and often a more expensive outer burial container so the expensive casket is better "protected", which should not be a concern since the casket will not be seen again after the interment is over.

Additional extra costs may be incurred at some funeral homes for services such as:

- arranging a visitation and/or a funeral or memorial service at a location other than the funeral home
- paying with a credit card
- processing insurance policies

Other goods and services sold at funeral homes can increase the cost of a funeral significantly – items such as burial clothing, temporary grave markers, extra viewing and visitation time at the funeral home, alternative casket liners, a crucifix, a flag case, prayer cards, register book, video presentations, use of chairs/awning/artificial grass at the cemetery for a graveside or committal service, and the release of balloons or doves at the cemetery.

Burial on private property in an incorporated city, town, or village is subject to that entity's zoning regulations or other related ordinances. Burial outside a municipality is generally unregulated. Burial on private property creates an encumbrance on the land if it is ever sold.
